11. Report on the programme:

An Extension Lecture on, "Samgaaner Parichay O Prabaha" was organized by the Department of Sanskrit in collaboration with Internal Quality Assurance Cell, Bijoy Krishna Girls' College, Howrah on 28th February, 2025 at the College Campus (G-1 Classroom).

The programme was inaugurated with the welcome speech by the Coordinator , Dr. Baisakhi Ghosh (Associate Prof., Dept. of Sanskrit, BKGC). Teachers and students then felicitated Dr. Sougata Mukherjee with flower bouquet and Uttariyo followed by recitation of Manngalacharan (Benedictory verse) by Dr Biswa Ranjan Goswami (HoD, Dept. of Sanskrit, BKGC).

In his lecture Dr. Mukherjee, started with a brief description of Samaveda. With the help of Pictures, he explained how Samaveda divided into Samhita and Ganagrantha.

He also gave clear explanation on different Samavedic Recensions, elaborated the Samaveda svara(Samaveda accent) and compared Svara with Dhruvadi Sangeet. He also mentioned different ancient commentaries where the confusion of the Veda Svara occurred and how these are cleared by eminent commentators. He beautifully demonstrated how Samagana is actually sung, in his melodious voice.

The programme concluded with the vote of thanks by Dr. Bharati Prasad (Associate Prof., Dept. of Sanskrit, BKGCC).

12. Programme Outcome:

Main objective of this lecture was to introduce oral tradition of Veda, especially Samaveda, which is disappearing day by day also to familiarize the students to the tradition and history of their roots. By knowing the correct pronunciation and Svvara (accent), they will be more confident in classical and Vedic pronunciation. For the students interested in music, this will definitely be a help to know the actual reason and how to distinguish between Komal and Sudhha Svvara. Anyone interested to build a career as a speech artist or vocalist, this knowledge will be great help.
